« I drink it when I'm happy and when I'm sad. Sometimes I drink it when I'm alone.

When I have company, I consider it obligatory. I trifle with it if I'm not hungry and drink it when I am.

Otherwise I never touch it – unless I'm thirsty »

Bordeaux: The Left & Right Bank, Fine Wines with Great History

The Best Wines have been known by "Château" since the 1600's

In 1855, Haut Brion rose to the rank of Premier Cru Classé. In 1935, Château Haut-Brion was acquired by the American banker Clarence Dillon. Later in 1939, he turned it into a hospital to accommodate the wounded officers of the French army. Since then, the property is still part of the same family, but winemaking is now the only activity of the estate, where several white and red wines are created Chateaux with Premier Grand Cru Classe A status are considered in the same league as the First Growths in the Medoc, who were classified in 1855. Extraordinarily high level of esteem were awarded to the First Growths, it's easy to see why this is such a big deal. To achieve the Premier Grand Cru Classe A status, the Chateaux were judged on a multitude of criteria including price, reputation in the marketplace, terroir and their wine & had to score a minimum of 17 out of 20 points.
